| 'The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes':   | Key words  | Characters  |
|--|--|---|
| <ul> <li>Knowledge Organiser</li> <li>Scandal in Bohemia – plot overview</li> <li>The King of Bohemia plans to marry a</li> </ul>  | enlighten – to provide someone with information and understanding. People come to Holmes so that they can be enlightened on a crime.   | Sherlock Holmes – a fictional consulting detective created by Arthur Conan Doyle. He is known for his intelligence, introspection and dual nature. He is described as an 'observing machine' because of   |
| Norwegian princess. However, he previously had a relationship with a woman called Irene Adler. Adler is threatening to ruin his engagement with a picture she has  | deduction – the process of reaching a decision by looking at the facts that are known. Holmes is able to use his skills of deduction to solve crimes.  Scandal – a scandal is something that shocks bis ability to capture the essence of people visemingly very little evidence.  Dr Watson – Holmes' former flatmate, a doct his closest companion. The stories are told from perspective, working as Holmes' assistant. | his ability to capture the essence of people with seemingly very little evidence.   |
|  |  | his closest companion. The stories are told from his  |
|  | people because they think it is morally wrong. The King of Bohemia fears that scandal of his relationship with Irene Adler being exposed.  | Irene Adler – a famous American opera singer who had a relationship with the future King of Bohemia. To Holmes, she is 'the woman' who outsmarted him.  |
| which Holmes keeps as a reminder of her.  The Read-Headed League – plot overview   | periodical/serial – books, magazines or other entertainment that are released on a regular basis. The Strand Magazine was a periodical that published the Sherlock Holmes stores.  | King of Bohemia – in the Victorian era, Bohemiawas an area of central Europe; today it is a regionof the Czech Republic. The King is engaged to a   |
| <ul> <li>One day, he is mysteriously told that he is no longer needed by the league so visits Holmes to ask him to investigate.</li> <li>Holmes discovers that his story reveals a plot to steal from a bank vault which is</li> </ul> | introspective – when you examine your own thoughts, ideas, and feelings. Sherlock Holmes can be introspective. This makes him a better detective.  | Scandinavian princess but five years previously was madly in love with Irene Adler. Because of his status, he was unable to marry her at the time, which he regrets. The King still respects Adler.   |
|  | dual nature – Holmes has a dual nature: his quiet introspective side, and his manic detecting side.  Background information  | James Ryder – head attendant of the hotel where the Blue Carbuncle goes missing. He works with his accomplice Catherine Cusack (the countess' maid) to steal the jewel and frame John Horner for the crime. He is racked with guilt and confesses when Holmes questions him.                |
| The Blue Carbuncle – plot overview   | Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was the author of the Sherlock Holmes stories.  |   |
| very valuable jewel) inside the goose!  Holmes recognises the jewel as the one that was stolen from The Countess of  | Sherlock Holmes' fictional home was 221B Baker Street, which is now a museum of Doyle's life and work.   | Jabez Wilson – a London pawnbroker who has distinctively red hair. His business is struggling so he takes the job working for The Red-Headed League. Wilson was tricked by his assistant Vincent Spaulding who worked alongside another criminal to use his shop to rob the bank next door. |
|  | Doyle's short stories were published individually in The Strand Magazine periodical and then collected to form The   |   |
| Morcar. Using the hat as a clue, Holmes and Watson set off to discover how the blue carbuncle was stolen and how it ended up in a goose.   | Adventures of Sherlock Holmes short story collection in 1892.  Before he became a writer, Doyle studied medicine.  | Vincent Spaulding/John Clay – Jabez Wilson's assistant. This is actually a disguise for John Clay who attempts a bank robbery using Wilson's shop as an easy passage.   |